

CONFIDENTIAL

STUDY OF GUERRILLA TACTICS

By

Li Mien-chih

Published by

Chung-ying Printing Bureau

March 1938

CONFIDENTIAL
382

CONFIDENTIALSTUDY OF GUERRILLA TACTICS*Table of Contents

- I. General Discussion
- II. Meaning of Guerrilla Tactics
 - A. Definition of Guerrilla Tactics
 - B. Special Features of Guerrilla Tactics
 - C. Basic Principles of Guerrilla Tactics
 - D. Effectiveness of Guerrilla Tactics
- III. Study of Guerrilla Tactics
 - A. Stationary Force
 - a. Selection of Site for Halting
 - b. When Force Should Move Into an Area for Halting
 - c. Security Measures To be Taken When Halting
 - d. Changing of Site for Halting
 - e. Measures to Be Taken After Decision Is Made to Halt
 - B. Force on the March
 - a. Types of March
 - b. Period of March
 - c. Pace of March
 - d. Proper Route of March
 - e. Incorrect Route of March
 - f. Night March
 - g. March During Storm
 - h. March in Snow
 - i. Security during March
 - j. Terrain to be Avoided in a March

CONFIDENTIAL
333

CONFIDENTIAL

C. Attack

- a. Essential Points of Attack
- b. Frontal Attack
- c. Flank Attack
- d. Envelopment Attack
- e. Attack Against Enemy Weak Points
- f. Attack Based on Terrain Features
 - 1. Attack in the Mountains
 - 2. Attack in the Valley
 - 3. Attack in Narrow Gorge
 - 4. Attack in Dense Vegetation
 - 5. Attack when Snow is on the Ground
 - 6. Attack Along Rivers, Beach, etc.
- g. Night Attack

D. Defense

- a. Defense of a General Position (regular)
- b. Defense of a Special Position
 - 1. Position in the Mountain
 - 2. Position in the Valley
 - 3. Position in a Narrow Gorge
 - 4. Position in a Dense Vegetation (forest, etc.)
 - 5. Position in Snow Area
 - 6. River Position
- c. Defense Against Air Attack
- d. Defense Against Gas Attack

CONFIDENTIAL
334

CONFIDENTIALE. Demolition*a. Demolition of Military Objectives*1. Army Depots and Warehouses*2. Storage Depots*3. Machinery*b. Demolition of Communications Facilities*1. Demolition of Railroad Lines*2. Demolition of Highways*3. Demolition of Ships and Shipping Facilities*4. Demolition of Telecommunications Facilities*c. Undermining Enemy Political Power*1. Disruption of Peace and Order*2. Spreading of False Rumors*3. Incite and Encourage People to Go on Strikes*d. Demolition of Special Installations and Personnel*1. Destruction of Power Plants and Water Plants*2. Slaying of Traitors*3. Distribution of Poisonous Materials To Kill Off the Enemy*IV. Study of Guerrilla Military Tactics (Methods)*A. Preparedness (Taking Advantage of Opportunity)*a. Weather*b. Terrain*c. Personnel*B. Awards*a. For Meritorious Action*b. Explanation of Awards and Punishment*335 CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

c. Happiness and Hardships of Guerrilla Life

C. Military Strategy

- a. Not to Attack When Enemy is Well Defended
- b. Not to Strike When Enemy is Strong
- c. Not to Engage in Any Battle When Enemy Situation is Not Well Known
- d. Principles of Ten to One in Envelopment Operations
- e. Principles of Five to One in Launching Attack
- f. Attack Only When Victory Can Be Gained
- g. Deceptive Operations To Distract and Confuse the Enemy And Then Launch Main Attack
- h. Avoid Enemy Strong Points and Attack Enemy Weak Points
- i. Attack Tired Enemy
- j. Feign Attack and Strike From the Flank
- k. Fire Upon the Middle of Enemy Formation
- l. Always Attack The Enemy From Its Weakest Defended Place

V. Organization of Guerrilla Combat Units

- A. Conditions When Guerrilla Units Should Be Organized
- B. Selection of Personnel for Guerrilla Units
- C. Principles of Guerrilla Combat Units
- D. Composition of Guerrilla Units

VI. Training of Guerrilla Combat Units

- A. Military Training
- B. Political Training
- C. Physical Training
- D. Technical Training

VII. Conclusion

336

CONFIDENTIAL